

DISCOVERING YOUR CALLING

Gary Barkalow, Author/Teacher

One of the most important challenges in our Christian walk is discovering our calling as men. Gary Barkalow does an amazing job unpacking this task by giving concrete application points that bring clarity to not only understanding our calling but being able to walk in it effectively. We are convinced this is one of the most important topics in the series. Take your time with Gary's teaching and head to his website for further resources.

Follow Up Questions:

How would you define calling?

What are the questions you are asking God about your life?

What are some of the desires God is developing in you?

What did you do this week that made you come alive?

Ask some older and trusted men: "What do you see in me?"
Then journal about it.

What would you say is your calling?
